Kentucky Voters Making Decision In Hot Primary

Barkley-Chandler Battle For Senate Nomination Is Feature Of Election

NEW DEAL ISSUE PROMINENT FACTOR

Expect Some 450,000 Democrats To Take Part In Primary Today

(International News Service)
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 6.—An estimated 450,000 Kentucky Democrats voted today in a primary election in which the battle between Senator Albert W. Barkley and Gov. A. B. "Happy" Chandler for the United States senatorial nomination overshadowed all other contests.

Barkley, senate majority leader, ran with the full endorsement of President Roosevelt and based his claim for re-nomination on his record as a New Deal senator.

Governor Chandler, while asserting his friendship and admiration for Mr. Roosevelt, has opposed some administration policies. During his campaign he more than once attacked Barkley for turning "on some one's coat tails."

Partisan Feeling High

Partisan feeling ran high throughout the state, and every precaution was taken to prevent any recurrence of violence of the sort that broke out in Jackson Thursday night when former Sheriff Lee Combs, a Chandler supporter, was shot and killed in what was said to be a political outbreak.

Lewis Combs, the slain man's brother, and Sheriff Walter Deaton were wounded in the shooting. Lewis Combs was Breckinridge county manager for Chandler. Sheriff Deaton backed Barkley.

Murder warrants were issued at Jackson last night for W. A. Combs, brother of Lewis, and Lee Combs, the slain man's brother, and Sheriff Walter Deaton were wounded in the shooting. Lewis Combs was Breckinridge county manager for Chandler. Sheriff Deaton backed Barkley.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Covered bridges in Lawrence county will soon be things of the past, unless a movement started at Harrisburg to preserve the few remaining in Pennsylvania is successful. Only four or five remain in this county, two across the Neshannock in the Neshannock Falls-Payette district and two on the Shipley Rock one at McConnell's Mills and the other at Kennedy's Mills. The last covered bridge to be removed was that at Edensburg. It was a real old timer and would have made a fine antique. New Castle used to have at least two covered bridges. East Washington street, West Washington street, Grant street and the old black bridge at the "narrowes." Other covered bridges that have been removed in comparatively recent years, were located at Manon-ingtown, Volant, Wampum and Muddybrook, the latter on the Perry highway. Wooden bridges were wonderful structures in their day, but they would hardly stand up long on main highways today.

One would imagine that if there is anything that would bring out a big vote, it would be a bond issue, something that would touch the pocketbook of every taxpayer. But reports from recent elections in this end of the state indicate a surprising lack of interest on the part of the electorate. In some instances not half of the registered vote was out. A bond issue is virtually a mortgage on all real estate. Taxes must be assessed against properties to pay it off. In consultation with Pa. News recently, J. Audley Book, master of State Grange, called attention to this fact. That although a home

3. The Legislature was to meet again Monday night at eight p. m. (EST) with the second legislative graft hearing scheduled for Tuesday at 10 a. m. (EST). District Attorney Shelly and former Attorney General Margiotti have been requested to testify.

Expect Monday Decisions To Bring Controversy Over State Graft Probe To Head

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
International News Service Staff Correspondent
HARRISBURG, Aug. 6.—All parties in Pennsylvania's grand jury-graft squabble—now in its fourth month—bided their time today as they awaited important decisions by Judge N. Schaeffer. The decisions, expected Monday, will go far to bring the entire controversy to a head.

The Berks county jurist labored far into the night at his reading home preparing his opinions on the constitutionality of the grand jury legislation passed by the special session of the Legislature.

Controversy Deadlocked

While he did so, for a few days at least, the bitter controversy which has deadlocked Gov. George H. Earle and the Democratic-controlled Legislature with the state judiciary subsided as legislators and other interested participants dispersed to their homes for the week-end.

The Legislature, which was called into special session by the governor to prevent a grand jury investigation of alleged graft in his administration, and substituted a legislative investigation in its stead, was scheduled to meet again Monday night at 8 p. m. (EST).

Preceding that, at 10 a. m. Judge Schaeffer is expected to rule.

Five New Victims Of Mystery Malady

Unable To Diagnose Ailment Which Has Taken Six Lives At Owosso, Mich.

(International News Service)
OWOSSO, Mich., Aug. 6.—Five new victims of the mystery malady which has taken six lives in a week were reported today as state health department laboratory scientists were still unable to diagnose the ailment.

Research Associate Dr. Wallace L. Chandler said all tests so far have failed to throw any light on the ailment, which State Health Commissioner Dr. Don W. Gudakunst described as a form of dysentery.

Dr. Chandler said:

"I have found nothing. The tests are all negative. They show no germs, no parasite, no poison."

Newest victims of the ailment were Colbert Vogelopol, 18, Mrs. Rathbun, 41, and three children of William Wrigglesworth, Jean, one, Dorothy, eight, and Betty, 10.

The five victims were taken to the small isolation building at Memorial hospital. Physicians, unable to determine if the ailment is contagious, barred all visitors. The stricken talked to relatives and friends through screened windows.

All victims have shown the same symptoms, Dr. Gudakunst said, suffering dysentery and internal hemorrhages.

Dr. Gudakunst advised all residents of the district to boil water, milk and all raw foods before eating as a safety measure.

Prominent Farmer Of Volant District Meets Death In Tractor Accident Friday

TRACTOR PLOWS THROUGH WALL

B. F. Sholler, aged 66, familiarly known to his friends as Frank, of R. P. D. No. 1 Volant, was almost instantly killed in a peculiar accident at his farm Friday evening about 5:30 o'clock. Mr. Sholler was finishing his day's work and when he went to put the farm tractor away, he lost control of it in some manner, the tractor going through the wall of the barn and dropping off a distance of about 12 feet opposite the entrance to the barn floor.

Mr. Sholler was driving into the barn with the tractor, and his son Henry O., who resides at home, was following in a truck. He with Mrs. Sholler, heard the crash as the tractor went through the wall and dropped out the back of the barn. They found Mr. Sholler dead when they reached his side. He suffered severe head injuries with a possible fracture of the skull and broken neck. He was thrown clear of the tractor, it was stated.

Portersville Road Widening Plan Nears Agreement

Impetus was given the road widening project in Portersville yesterday when representatives of Portersville and the county commissioners at a conference reached a common ground on the matter of damages to abutting property owners. The item of damages had been holding the project up for the past several days.

Plans for the improvement contemplate the widening of that section of the highway traversed by two routes, 19 and 22, to a width of four lanes through the borough proper, beginning at the junction of the two highways on the east side of the borough, and to three lanes from the western limits of the borough to the Dixie Inn, where Route 19 branches off the older route.

Corrigan Studies Future Program

Ponders Over Job For Immediate Future—Has Host Of Offers

WANTS TO STICK IN AVIATION NOW

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—A slightly battered Douglas Corrigan rose today in his hotel suite after a day and night of frenzied work and plunged into the serious business of where to go from here.

First business of the day, and due to take up all of his morning, was the task of running through the hundreds of offers which have piled up since he landed his old crate at Dublin, Ireland, on his "wrong way" flight.

His uncle, the Rev. S. Fraser Langford, told an armful of these offers down to Doug's rooms.

No Night Clubs

At one swoop, the young aviator, mechanic who flew to fame on a two week's vacation, eliminated many of them.

"No night club appearance," he said.

This threw out dozens of offers, some proposing a salary of as high as $10,000 a week for personal appearances, with a binder for four weeks' work.

"I want to stick in aviation," he explained.

That let out a flock of other fancy offers.

As for the movies—he has three offers, tentative or final, from major companies—he is doubtful. He is shying away from the thought of

New Deal Has Vital Interest In Result Of Kentucky Battle

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—President Roosevelt was in Panama today, but it is entirely probable his thoughts were in Kentucky.

For in Kentucky, as nowhere else in this political off-year, Mr. Roosevelt has made an issue of the New Deal, and staked his personal prestige as well. It is the primary contest between Senator Albert W. Barkley, his senate leader, and Gov. A. B. "Happy" Chandler, for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

Only a few weeks ago, Mr. Roosevelt faced an audience of thousands of Kentucky Democrats and appealed to them to return Barkley to the senate. He did not doubt, he said, that Gov. Chandler would make a good senator, but he wanted Barkley. And he suggested rather bluntly that "Happy" would have a difficult time delivering as much for Kentucky in Washington as Barkley could.

Dramatic Touch

Few presidents have gone down the line further for a favored lieutenant than did Mr. Roosevelt for Senator Barkley. And that lends an added dramatic touch to the contest which nearly four hundred thousand Kentucky Democrats are deciding today. Mr. Roosevelt almost literally burned his bridges behind him. He told his Kentucky audiences he wanted Barkley returned, and in that statement he put on the block his personal prestige, as well as subjecting the New Deal to the acid test. Barkley is a

Soviet Troops Strike At Four Border Points

Fresh Alleged Attacks By Soviet May Blast Diplomacy Out Of Picture

HUNDRED TANKS SHARE IN CLASH

Soviet "Peace Terms" Nothing Short Of Complete Japanese Capitulation

By DON BROWN
International News Service Staff Correspondent
TOKYO, Aug. 6.—Marshal Vassily Blucher's Red Army of the east, striking at four points on the Siberian frontier with infantry, tanks, artillery, and airplanes, today brought the Russo-Japanese border struggle to its most explosive stage in two weeks of undeclared war.

Diplomacy Blasted Out

Diplomacy, which both Moscow and Tokyo hoped would peacefully end the conflict, was blasted out of the picture with two fresh alleged invasions of Japanese-controlled territory.

Soviet airplanes, backing up Moscow's demand for a Japanese retreat, raided Kosen and the railway settlements of Kofe and Shikai in northern Korea. The railroad stations, however, were not hit, said an army bulletin.

Carving the war farther north, the war effort officially charged, a party of Soviet troops yesterday crossed the Manchukuo border and began to dig trenches near the Manchukuo village of Mandchouling, 22 miles north of Suifu.

Hundred Tanks In Action

More than 100 tanks and squadrons of airplanes were thrown into the recent action on two nearby fronts at Changchun and Shuang-shan hills, just above the Korean border.

Two Soviet airplanes were shot down by anti-aircraft guns the war effort said.

Artillery opened the conflict, quickly followed by intense tank and machine gun battles. Suifu, the border town, the Soviet bulletin advanced to within 220 yards of the Japanese positions, but they were dispersed and their guns silenced.

The Soviet attacking air force was

Carnegie Museum Scientists To Study Bear Killed Friday

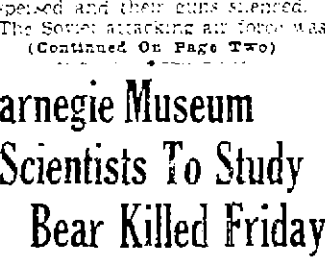

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 6.—The carcass of the huge grizzly bear killed in the city park Friday will be studied by the Carnegie Museum scientists.

Museum officials said they intend to study the skeleton of the bear and perhaps mount the skin. A second animal, grizzly companion to the dead bear, was transferred to the "bear pen" for safety's sake, according to zoo superintendent Arnold J. Schumann.

"The bear died today," Schumann said, "after tramping through all that underbrush in the middle of summer, and then seeing that big bear coming at me. It was the biggest one I ever saw."

It was Schumann, with the aid of police, who finally managed to put an end to the escaped bear yesterday.

Playground Group Has Doll Exhibit

Arthur McGill Center Draws Crowd For Show; Winners Named

Chubby dolls, thin dolls, large dolls, small dolls—50 dolls, in fact, of every description were seen this week in the doll show sponsored at the Arthur McGill playground on the North Hill. A committee of judges chose the following winners as best: Stuffed doll, Carl Kido; oldest doll, Elizabeth Burton; largest doll, Catherine Duff; best dressed doll, Ruth Salmon; best dressed doll, Donna Morris; first and Mary Anne Johnson; second, Jordan doll, Jane Throp; first and Bobby Jean Wilson; second, doll with longest hair, Patty Layde.

A display of handcraft work turned out by the playground group this summer, including bead work, coasters, made of cork, metal tapping, squares, rita work and bead bags. Kids were seen along with the doll exhibit. Judges of the dolls were Mrs. Clarence Gosses, Mrs. Harold Pryor and Mrs. William Dampier. A hike and a scavenger hunt are planned for the playground, Mrs. Hoully G. Ruffin, Mrs. Esther Schiberson and James Sore, leaders of the center, said.

Goldfish Mystery Is Unsolved, But Mosquitoes Blamed

(International News Service)
SWARTHMORE, Pa., Aug. 6.—The 24 goldfish that Kenneth Reed, secretary of the Swarthmore golf club, darkly hinted were eaten by Delaware county mosquitoes, were replaced today.

Reed had placed the fish in a well on the club course last week with the announcement: "they'll eat the mosquitoes," but later he found the fish had disappeared while the mosquitoes appeared fatter than ever.

So today, just as mysteriously as the others had dropped from sight, 100 new goldfish were in the well. Reed said today nobody at the club knew where they came from, but he expressed approval of the increase in numbers.

Maybe, he said, the fish will have a better chance now.

City-County Softball Tournament Session Called For Tuesday By Franklyn Crisci

STANSBURY-GOETZ WILL VISIT HERE

Deputy Commissioner Franklyn R. Crisci, of the City-County softball tournament, announced today that another Elmwood City team has entered the championship tourney here. It is the last Park Gate Indians team. A meeting of the managers of all the teams has been called for Tuesday night at the "Y" at 8 o'clock.

Officials Coming Here
Mr. Crisci also announced today that Frank Stansbury, Western Pennsylvania Softball commissioner and his assistant James Goetz of Pittsburgh will be in New Castle next Tuesday for an inspection of fields and to address the managers at the meeting at the "Y". They will outline the various details of the coming tourney. They will be guests of Mr. Crisci during their stay here.

It is hoped that a tenth team can be secured for the tourney here in New Castle. Any team that desires to try for the Western Pennsylvania regional championship can enter the tourney by getting in touch with Mr. Crisci or Fred Marcella.

There are now two line teams from Elmwood City in the tourney and there is bound to be a lot of fine games played.

Rosenbloom And Pastor In Draw

(International News Service)
HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 6.—Both fighters and fans were clamoring for a re-match today after Slapase Maxie Rosenbloom and Bob Pastor fought to a draw in their 10-round heavyweight match before 20,000 last night.

Referee Abe Roth's decision was booed by the fans, many of whom claimed that young Pastor, one of the leading heavyweight contenders, should have been given the decision because of his aggressiveness.

Handlers of both fighters loudly shouted "we was robbed" and it appeared today that Slapase, veteran fighter, movie actor and restaurant owner, would be staged for a second fight against Pastor.

Rambling Around World Of Sports

Curstane chatter along Wash boulevards. Everyone seemed to be in a rambling mood yesterday.

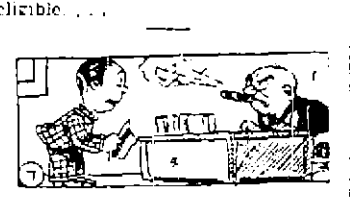

Our first subject was the popular Anthony George Muse, a former grid star at New Castle high, who watches the sport pages as closely as possible. Muse mentioned something about his favorite local team, the Red Sox. In Updegraff and Adams, the North Hill club has a pair of classy sandlotters, Muse said. Incidentally, Muse was among the first captains at New Castle high.

Bart Richards, a brother scribe, happened by and paid a fitting tribute to Muse. In turn, Muse revealed that Richards was a talented pitcher in his better days. Richards was equipped with a curve that resembled a snake as it approached the plate.

Bernard Hanlon, was as versatile as Mike Ryba, of the Columbus Red Birds. Hanlon, our third subject, was a boxer, football player and a baseballer among other things.

He told us to check The News file if we didn't believe him. A few doors down the avenue we met the Babe Ruth of 1912, a one David Bevan, of the old Castles.

Bevan set some kind of a mark at Idora Park, blasting three homers in one game. It seemed that in those days a $5 prize was awarded the sandlotter who could propel one over the wall. Bevan claimed his prize and was told that only players on the Youngstown roster were eligible.

Still the same Babe. During a night exhibition battle between Albany and Brooklyn of the National League, a fan stepped up in one Babe Ruth and said "Babe, I never saw you suck one" before the Babe remarked that he would attend to that and, boy, he really did. He clipped the pellet a country mile.

Wave Of Protest Halts Proposed Show At Jackson State Prison In Michigan

(International News Service)
JACKSON, Mich., Aug. 6.—Michigan's experiment in prison boxing shows at $1.65 a round today was halted today by a wave of protest against the scheduled Jack Kearns show at Jackson State prison.

This show was to have been held this afternoon with heavyweight Roscoe Toles and Jimmy Adamick, best of the younger crop of Michigan professional fighters, scheduled to star with inmate fighters.

The state boxing commission made the show legal yesterday by heavily rebuking Kearns of Illinois charges he sent Adamick into a "fixed" fight with Jack Trammell in Chicago. Adamick was cleared of the charges by the Michigan body several weeks ago.

Warden Joe Moore, who cooperated with Kearns in the plans for the show, called off the fight after a wave of public protest moved prison commission chairman John W. Miner to "suggest" that the fight be cancelled. Moore said the estimated 6,000 ticket holders would be refunded their money. Tickets in the fight were sold in every large city in the state, much the same as tickets are sold for any professional show.

GAME IS POSTPONED

The Wabash Grace softball game with the Wabash Bears team, which was scheduled for tonight, has been postponed until further notice. It was learned today.

Bocce league players are required to report at 7 o'clock tonight at the Union Calabro playing field.

REUTERS UPSET BEARS

The Reuters defeated the Wabash Bears last night at Canton Park field for a count of 14 to 3 in a City softball league battle. The Reuters found "Irv" Rubels for 15 hits including an eight run rally in the first inning.

"Phantom" Kendra was the winning hurler allowing but one hit in the six frames that he worked. Pezanne and Bishara finished the game for the Reuters.

Heavy hitters were Lefty Polenick, Colletto, Jones, and Nocera. The victory puts the Reuters tied for second place in the league.

NOMADS DEFEAT CASTLES

The smooth playing Nomad team defeated the Castles in a Midweek League game Friday morning at Gaston Park, with a score of 2-1.

Bill Wright, besides pitching great ball, won the game by hitting a double in the eighth inning. Six of the game were B. Wright, Muncyak, Tuscano, and Golt. Varzo starred in the field for the Nomads. Leis started for the Castles.

Batteries: Nomads: A. Wright and G. Wright; Castles: Samansky and Petro.

Something for New York Giant fans. An incident of many years ago surrounds Art Nehf, New York Giant pitcher, who once won a World Series game against the New York Yankees, by ignoring John McGraw's signals, which were coming from the bench.

Nehf pitched exactly opposite to what McGraw was signalling. This was among the few times that McGraw's mis-termining was tossed to the wind.

A "gunder" through the sports world. It's a great job this guy Billy Grimes is doing with those Dodgers. And, without benefit of oracles either. The coming fight between Henry Armstrong and Lou Ambers can't even stir up a "yawn" as far as the sports world is concerned.

Elmer Layden is a "morning fool" these days. The approach of the grid season is cause for same. Bill Post has finally given up his job as coach at third base. Perhaps he wants to change luck, poor fellow.

The Dodgers drew 31,724 fans in three exhibition games. Can it be the presence of Babe Ruth?

Still the same Babe. During a night exhibition battle between Albany and Brooklyn of the National League, a fan stepped up in one Babe Ruth and said "Babe, I never saw you suck one" before the Babe remarked that he would attend to that and, boy, he really did. He clipped the pellet a country mile.

The charges by the Michigan body several weeks ago. Warden Joe Moore, who cooperated with Kearns in the plans for the show, called off the fight after a wave of public protest moved prison commission chairman John W. Miner to "suggest" that the fight be cancelled.

Moore said the estimated 6,000 ticket holders would be refunded their money. Tickets in the fight were sold in every large city in the state, much the same as tickets are sold for any professional show.

Broad Advance in Market
Today Follows Friday's Rise, List Opens
Strong

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—The stock market forged ahead today in a broad advance following yesterday's rise. The industrial averages came within striking distance of the year's high after establishing a new closing high level yesterday. The market opened strong in big trading.

General Motors continued in the forefront of the leaders, rising around 2 points to a new high for the year. Chrysler was as strong while Nash was active and higher. Bethlehem and U. S. Steel set the pace for their group, advancing a point and more. Big steel was a late opener, starting at 62 on 3,000 shares about 15 minutes after the rest of the market got underway.

Di-Pont was buoyant in the chemicals, gaining more than 2 to a new high. Gains in the coppers ran to more than a point, with Phelps Dodge in new high ground.

There were unusually large dealings in railroad shares. N. Y. Central was prominent. D. & H. and C. & O. rose over a point each, the former at a new high.

All active rubber shares belated previous high marks for the year. Westinghouse rose 2 in the blue chips. Elsewhere the trend was upward with the exception of gold shares and the farm implements. The latter were upset by the fall in grain prices.

Republicans To Respect Signing Of Constitution

Roger W. Rowland Is Chairman Of Program Planned In Lawrence County

OBSERVANCE TO BE NATION-WIDE

HARRISBURG, Aug. 6.—A nationwide observance of the signing of the Constitution on September 17, to be participated in by Pennsylvania Republicans and all friends of the constitution, was announced today by Republican State Chairman James F. Tamm.

Tamm said that all twenty organizations throughout the state would sponsor dinners or meetings on the birthday of the constitution in cooperation with the Republican national committee.

Sterling G. McNees, Harrisburg, was named by Tamm to handle the dinners and rallies throughout the state.

"The dinners are not to be revenue raisers," McNees declared, "but are to be held for the best possible reason. They are to be popular in character and although sponsored and directed by Republicans, all friends of the constitution should be invited."

State-wide candidates will speak at the largest meetings over radio networks. The phases of the constitution which are now under attack give us an unprecedented opportunity to again express our approval of constitutional government.

Roger W. Rowland of New Castle has been named chairman of the committee which will direct events in Lawrence county in connection with the observance.

Nations that surpass us, despite our great resources, are the ones that don't change their policies every time they meet a new man.

Short Talks On Advertising

Prepared by the Bureau of Research and Education, Advertising Federation of America

WHAT IS A CONSUMER?

NUMBER 7
If you like slogans, you may accept this one: "The consumer is king." Not clever, perhaps, but very true—and important. As a motto, it figuratively hangs over the door of every business office and every factory in the land. Yes, and over the doorways of farmers who raise our foodstuffs, too.

It is literally true that consumers have the power of life or death over every business enterprise. They decide exactly what products shall be made and who shall be permitted to make them. They decide what form of distribution they want and which storekeepers shall remain in business. Consumers decide what kind of advertising there is to be for in making their choice of brands they reward certain advertisers and punish others.

Who are these all-powerful consumers who daily write the destinies of business? They are the man and the woman with the buying dollar—the voting dollar. They go to the business polls every day of the year, casting their vote-dollars with the butcher, the baker, the automobile maker. They vote for the products they like and for the companies they approve.

Some advertisers succeed and others fail. They lay their claims on consumers, and the consumer dollars decide. There is no recourse and no appeal. No amount of fancy theory can change the simple fact that the consumer is the boss and always will be, so long as we safeguard our system of free private enterprise.

Consumers are not a special class of people. You cannot classify our population under the divisions of capital, labor, and consumers. Each of us is a bit of all three. Everyone who has any savings, property, or insurance belongs to the capital class. Everyone who works for pay belongs to the labor class. And everyone who buys things belongs to the consumer class. Practically everybody is a consumer, except the child who is not old enough to run to the corner store for candy.

This makes it clear why there is so much thing as all business being on one side of the fence and all consumers on the other. But for each individual business the consumers are well defined. They are the customers and potential customers. There are a million separate businesses, and their many groups of consumers criss-cross and overlap. But in every individual case, consumers control the fate of the business that depends on their patronage.

This fact is the very essence of economic freedom in America. In several other countries the governments determine what products shall be made available to consumers and which business concerns shall survive. Under such conditions the people lose essential liberties and normal progress must stop. The American way is the better way. Here it is up to every business to please consumers by its own efforts, to produce the best goods it can, and to advertise them to the public. This is the way of progress, the way to higher standards of life. So long as the consumer is king, America will always be free.

On Court House Hill

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS
Minnie M. McCann to Ernest H. Criswell, Second ward, $1.

A session of motion court will be held Monday morning by Judges W. Walter Braham and Thomas W. Dickey.

An alias subpoena has been awarded in the divorce case of Antonia Kovach against Anton Kovach.

Examiners from the Naturalization department at Pittsburgh will be here on Monday to conduct preliminary examinations of applicants for naturalization papers. There are 230 cases to come up, one of the largest classes for many years.

Attorneys are pretty well satisfied with improvements made in the library at the court house, which included painting and carpeting, but say that the only thing that now seems to be lacking are ash trays. White ashes from cigars and cigars, don't look very good on the velvety green carpet, and most of the lawyers haven't yet graduated into the pipe class.

In point of service about the court house, Mrs. Mary Conti, interpreter, now holds the red ribbon. She was first appointed by the late Judge W. D. Wallace, and has been appointed by successive judges ever since. Up until the time of her appointment the court had great difficulty in getting competent interpreters. Sometimes it was necessary to send to Pittsburgh for them. The late Attorney Robert K. Aiken, discovered Mrs. Conti's ability, brought her up to court and recommended her for interpreter. She was appointed, and every judge who has since sat on the bench has been completely satisfied to reappoint her. Mrs. Conti has a thorough knowledge of the Italian language, with the various dialects, and also a good command of English. She has a retentive memory and the ability to faithfully interpret both short and long answers of witnesses. When she was first appointed an interpreter was used in practically all Italian cases. Since then many have learned the English language and the work is not so arduous.

In the estate of Demeter Yazel, also known as Joe Doline, in which Attorney Marshall Matheny was executor, the court has made an order that attorneys who secured a return from the state of $448.77 inheritance tax that had been paid be allowed a fee of $125. The estate was one that has taken considerable time to settle up, as the principal heir, Mrs. Peter Geddon, nee Julia Demeter, a daughter, lived in Siedol, Roumania. This caused complications over the inheritance tax.

A petition was presented to court asking permission to remove George R. Sowash of New Wilmington, from the Torrance State hospital to the Friends hospital at Philadelphia. Mr. Sowash is considerably improved and a letter from Superintendent Wollak of Torrance, stated that he believed the transfer would be to his advantage. The petition was granted. Expense is to be borne by George A. Sowash, father of the patient.

The Human Side Of The News

Well, all agree, I think, that the weather, so far in the year of 1938, has been a little mite peculiar. The astronomers, peering anxiously into space, perceive strange things taking place out in our solar system. A great storm on Jupiter. A remarkable change on the face of Mars, with what looks like a dust storm sweeping the Red Planet. And record-breaking sunspots on old Sol.

The "sunspot maximum," as the star-gazers call it, is due about now, and its effects are being observed not only in our sun and its atmosphere, but in the disturbance of radio waves and telephone and telegraphic communication. As it doesn't have trouble enough, our poor humans, sunspots must rise up millions of miles away to plague and pierce us. Little man, poor bedeviled creature, tries to tell a seven or an eleven against "trained dice" and comes out with a double six or snake-eyes.

I don't pretend to any knowledge of the authenticity of the statement, but there are many who believe firmly that the long roll and the flip of destiny at the end, and our good or ill are paved to the beat of ultra-violet rays coming from the cosmic groundslab across the passing pand' of mice and men.

The curves of business activity, industry and the stock exchange prices of New York and London, of prosperity and depression, seem to follow in a hair-raising parallel, some erratic, motion, cyclonic rush on the face of the sun. The curves on clear back to the South Sea bubble exist in the seventeenth century, and carry down to 1932, just a little up or down-turn in solar radiation, as determined by sunspots, and up or down goes the curve of stock prices.

The apparent phenomenon of a direct relation between sunspots and our earthly prosperity was investigated recently by Carlos Garcia Mata, a distinguished scientist of Argentina, assisted by Dr. Felix R. Shaffner of Harvard University. The result was startling, the period from 1880 to 1920 showing an almost unbelievable matching of the variations of solar radiations and the second, right out of the laboratory. Every instrument in the world, checking ultra-violet rays and solar radiation, registered this rumble, right about with the big crash, with the ultra-violet rays right in step with the stock market.

Or would it be too far to think our way through this sort of thing will be buying like a line of boys. Obviously, if they would put in the dome of every house a big ultra-violet ray lamp shedding its benign rays on the brokers, they'd all be bullish. The shorts would be routed and everything would hum along merrily, with maybe three or four crashes in every ten years. The professors say they have not established the relationship of sunspots to human behavior. Think for the politicians and biologists, and try to work on this sunspot problem now.

Well, anything can happen these days. A lot of shrewd citizens thought the scientists were pretty foolish when they first said the sun didn't travel around the earth. A gentleman named Galileo had to be in a hurry to have himself, when being burned at the stake, when he announced that the earth swung regularly around the sun, and it's just about as hard nowadays to make or even get settled opinions in the scientific world. But keep an eye on those sunspots and on your umbrellas, even if you don't play the stock market.

Before 1929, there had been lots of so-called "shareholders" popping away at the idea that solar radiation and stock markets were connected. But here you have the
